Dear Claire,

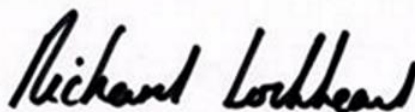

Electronic Trade Documents Bill – LCM

I write in regards to the Legislative Consent Memorandum for the Electronic Trade DocumentS Bill (the Bill) which your committee is currently considering. Electronic Trade Documents Bill | Scottish Parliament Website

For your information, the United Kingdom Government has tabled amendments regarding the Bill today (you can find them here). The Scottish Government is urgently reviewing the amendemnts, but considers that these are material to the proposed delegated powers in the Bill and therefore intends to submit a Supplementary Legislative Consent Memorandum.

While I cannot commit that we will be able to do so before the my committee appearance on Wednesday, I hope that we can discuss these amendments and what they may mean for our proposed approach in any case.

I look forward to seeing you on Wednesday.

RICHARD LOCHHEAD
